

Aims

Californians access and engage in advanced primary care that is equitable and incorporates collaboration with high-value specialty expertise.

Californians experience reduced morbidity, mortality and inequities in care and health outcomes, with a focus on cardiovascular disease, diabetes and maternal health.

Drivers of Improvement

Spread adoption of and success in value-based payment models through multi-payer alignment, care team support and harmonization of measures and reporting.

Expand the integration of behavioral health care into primary care with improved quality and access.

Increase collection and exchange of accurate and complete patient self-reported demographic data (e.g. REaLD, SOGI) for use in care and quality improvement.

Improve postpartum care and maternal mental health through integration with adult and pediatric primary care.

Address socials needs through support to care teams and payers to utilize existing community-based services and organizations. Equip payers and delivery systems to build partnerships and engage in dialogue to meaningfully impact health equity and social drivers of health in our communities.
